2. The Contingent funds being treated as on the regular Estt to avoid the difficulty now explained in getting men now taken L to serve as Guards. The average annual Cost of funds is more

His No. 61 dated 23rd July 1898 in re the Contingent establishment.

With reference to the above, has the honor to state that in paras 12 and 13 of Mr. Biddulph's report on the account and records of the Central Jail it is mentioned that the expression "Contingent establishment" should be changed to "Temporary establishment" that the cost of the establishment should be billed for seperately as "Temporary establishment" and that the grant now included under "Contingencies" for this establishment, should be transferred to that of establishment.

2. Temporary establishment are entertained under the sanction of Government fixing their pay pay and the period of their employment, and the pay of such establishments is billed for seperately as required by article 58 Rule 1 of the account code Vol: I but in the present case extra guards are employed when the number of prisoners: increases, and their services are dispensed with when the number decreases, and it is therefore doubtful whether they can be included under "Temporary establishment".

3. Persons employed temporarily for protection of forests from fire, Surveyors and draftsmen employed on a definite price of forest work (See Section II of Forest Department Code) Tent Keepers and letter-carriers employed in the Forest Department for a seasons tour (See Sec: quoted above) Hot weather establishments employed in Civil offices are not treated as regular Temporary establishments.

Further provision is seperately made for Contingent guards in the Budget and their cost has all along been included in the contingent bills, and any change in the long established practice requires the sanction of Government.

The

The question may therefore be referred to Government for orders.

12. (a) Cost of Contingent Establishment. This records the details of " Temporary guards" employed with prisoners doing extra-mural labor, the proportion being one guard to five prisoners.

Remarks.

13. The expression " Contingent Establishment" is misleading and should be changed to " Temporary Establishment." The cost of this should not be included with contingent charges, but should be billed for separately as " Temporary Establishment." If the grant for contingencies is intended to cover these charges it is not correct and a transfer should be made increasing the grant for establishment under " Temporary Establishment" and degreasing that under " Contingencies."

Mr. Biddulph's suggestion was for the transfer of the charges on account of "contingent guards" to the head "Temporary Estt." if the grant for contingencies was extended to cover such charges. The Comptr. says that the latter is not the case, the Contingent Guards being paid out of a separate grant made thereof. No change in the present practice appears called for. P.K. 4/4

Paras 2 & 3 of the Comptr's letter rec'd. with G. O. No. 3698/19 Oct.-/98 contain his objections to the expression "Contingent Estt." being changed to "Temporary Estt."
